THE TIME IS SHORT!

REPUBLICANS! we have but two days before election. Lose no time. See your neighbors. Finish up the work of every kind! Get your tickets. Don't let ! he rain discourage you! It is very disagreeable but it is fertilizing; just as disunion bluster dampened the Republicans four years ago, but has at last caused the true seed to spring up and blossom, and next Tuesday we shall reap the harvest. Be on hand with TOUR SCYTHES. BOXE!

PHELPS FOR SHERIFF.

Everybody knows J. A. PEELPS, Nobody knows any ill of him. He is one of our oldest settlers, AN HONEST MAR, Who never did a mean act. His neighbors all like him, and for the most part mean to vote for him. He, like most of our ticket, is hard at work, and we believe is bound to be elected. They say that Lankin, who is spending money with a liberal hand, buying up grog shops, wniskey holes, and purchaseable roters, has found a few of the latter in the Republican ranks. If this be so, they must have cost him more than they will be worth to him, because no Republican would think of working openly for him. These stories are, we we presume, set affoat now, as they have at previous elections, in order to disorganize and divide Republicans. They are devices of the enemy, with which we are familiar. Not a dozen Republicans will vote for LAR-Mrs. while more than as many hundreds of Demograts will vote for Honest Publics. REPUBLICANS, STAND TOGETHER, DO YOUR BEST, AND OUR PRINCIPLES AND OUR DAN-DIDATES HAVE VIRTUE ENOUGH TO SUCCEED !

CLERK OF THE COURT.

Do any of our Democratic friends happen to remember WM. H. JACOBS' manocuvres in reference to the nomination for the office of City Treasurer last spring? Have they all so soon forgotten the treasen to his party of which they then accused him? If they can overlook it, we can; but we had thought they were not of so forgiving a disposition. We have no objection to his being their candidate, if they have none. He has no snecial qualification for the post he now seeks. and he is in that respect, as in all others, far inferior to the Republican nomines.

HALDERT E. PAINE is indeed a man worthy of your suffrages. A good lawyer, he is for that reason particularly qualified for the post of Clerk of the Circuit and County Courts. He speaks German well. Sixth and Ninth Wards, and his money has flowed there like water, so that it would be strange if he had not at least got some strength there. Mr. PAINE was, against his own will, put up, last spring; for the office of City Attorney. He made an coad a nun, and showed himself so loud that the pigs, when feeding on the beach at low water, when they hear it, turn made so good a run, and showed himself so made so good a run, and showed himself so acceptable to the people, that the Republicans this fall insisted upon having the use. There is a similar tidal wave of sentiment of his name. Fellow-citizens! vote for him on the Atlantic seaboard; it has spread over our want the best man for that important our Northwestern lakes and rivers in oppooffice! Republicans! Bornell's Asemegraph.

This is the name that I propose for a newly invented and very ingenious lustrument, now in operation at the observatory on the house of C. Comstook, in the Elath Ward. It is the invention of Mr. LEVI BUE- points, NELL, of this city, and is intended to write down upon a pièce of paper six inches wide, all that can be known in regard to the direction and ferce of the wind. It has been at work nearly a month and yields results quite satisfactory. A clock regulates the motion of the paper to exactly two inches hour by a series of points along the margin. Four pencils which need no sharpening or other attention, one for each pardinal point, indicate the direction of the wind, and show how much the vane fluctuates to the right and left of the mean direction. Another pencil, the motion of which is regulated by a revolving fan, makes an undulating line along the lower margin of the paper, in such a manner that the number of undulations in a given time indicates the relative force or strength of the wind. So delicate is this Anemograph that the slightest change in the direction or force of the wind is indicated with unerring certainty. By measurement on the sheet, the exact direction in degrees, or points of the compass, may be seen, so that there is nothing left for conjecture or uncertainty. The instrument may be placed in any convenient room under the highest part of a house. I have before me a sheet, forty feet in length, on which was written by this instrumen the character of the wind for the last ten days in October and the first of November, 1860. It is to be sont to Capt. Gro. G. MEADE, of the Topographical Engineers, who has charge of the survey of the Great Lukes, authorized by Congress, and who has instituted a series of observations from The bonds referred to, were used for the which he hopes to be able to deduce many of payment of commissions to parties who had the laws governing the storms on the lakes, contracted to take up a large amount of the and the very remarkable changes of the water level. This instrument will be one of great value to the meteorologists, who are now tain data, to discover results which will lead to a knowledge of the general phenomena of the winds. The Anemograph can be manufactured and sold at a moderate price; and we may soon expect to see it in operation in the hands of scientific men and men of taste. Every college and institution of learning should have one, and marine insurance com panies would find it to their advantage to be able to profit by the accurate knowledge of the winds which it affords.

STRIKING NAMES FROM THE TICKET .-The Pennsylvania officeholders of the National administration have been instructed to strike the name of every Douglas man from the Reading Electoral Ticket. As an offset to this the Washington correspondent of Ponnay's Press given the names of the BENCKINGIDGE electors, in order that the friends of "Little Dug" may return the compliment. This is "fusion" with a vengeance, and bids fair to end somewhat after the manner of the Kilkenney cat fight. Of the leading man on the Reading ticket, the

"The most malignant of the Disunionists on the Pennsylvania electoral ticket, is the somewhat famous George M. The Democratic Meeting at Madison. respondence of the Sculinel.

Madison, Nov. 1, 1860. Editor of Sentiset:-I have high authority for saying that "talk is talk, but it takes whisky to run a Douglas meeting." Dane County has been plastered over with posters, and the Douglas organ here has been plethoric in announcements of the magnitude of preparations for a great meeting to be held here, Oct. 31. The day has passed, and such a failure never before was seen, or heard of. Dane County will give from three to five hundred majority for Lincoln. No well informed man disputes this. It is a sure thing. The fizzle yesterday was a sham that shows how dead Popular Sovereignty Democracy is here. The Douglas party in Dane County can be carried in a wheel barrow, and if the whisky was taken out of it it could be carried in a pillow case. There were about two hundred men in the hall in the afternoon; all wore hate and talked as well as the speaker on the stand. In the evening there were about two handred and eighty or three hundred torches in the hands of men and boys, with a large eprinkling of boys. Oh my eyes! you should have seen that procession. Such handsome men i Their beautiful large mouths right in the middle of their illegant faces, and such hoo r-r-r--aha for Dooglas !

As a Republican, I am bound to respect all men's rights, but I'll be hanged if I can get up the slightest glimmer of respect for the intelligence of the crowd I saw in the Douglas procession last night. I am credibly informed that one of the leaders here blew out his torch and hurried home; told, also, that there were one hundred boys in the procession. If there were twenty ideas under the hats of all that string of Douglaz mourners, I am mistaken in the looks of the men. Some of the heads looked as if they never had ideas in 'em, or even so much as an itching or rritation in that region, unless on the out.

8. P. BY THE ACCIDENT on the Railroad running from Fall River to Boston, a few days since, Mrs. Dringwater had her arm torn off

A fellow passenger says : "Mrs. Drinkwater, who had an arm tor off, was sitting near us at the time of the accident, and was thrown down. She got up, after the train stopped, and was leaving the ear, when she said to her companion. 'I believe my arm is gone !' Her companion traplied, 'Oh no., it is only numb from a bruise.' A moment after she said—'It is gone, for I cannot find my hand.' Her com-panion temoved some of her clothing and found that the arm had been taken off near the pooket of the shoulder. It was after-wards found; under the car, with a giove still upon the hand."

Room was full, all auxious to see the Frenchman punchel, and the Frenchman punched, and pretty good punching it was. He made the balls nop all over the table, and generally had three in the sir at once. Keil Bryant was there, and Neil is a pretty good judge of billiard punching. Idid my favorite shed with great success, jumped my hall oushion, leap off at a sharp angle, carom on Neil Bryant, come back to the table, take eighteen cushions, and stop exactly on the centre spot.

Phelan had a try. He did one of the simple shots that I taught him—the one where the cue tall takes twenty-one cushions, knocks the hate off three Dutchmen in the corner, comes back, stops inside the string. Berger didn't think much of that; so he took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves, and put in a tremendous lick; the ball hit Phelan on the middle vest button, caromed on Neil Bryant, came back to the table, and took four cushions, went out of the window, gave a stage driver a black eye, came back and took a cushion, went out through another window,

All hands were occupied for forty minutes in reviving Phelan, who had fainted from

You take your ramred and rub some chalk on the little end; then you lean some chalk on the little end; then you lean over the table; then you squint; then you lift up your leg; then you fiddle a little on left hand with your ramrod; then you punch your ball; if your ball runs against the other man's ball you've done a big thing, and you poke up a lot of buttons that are strung on a wire. This is all there is of the game of billiards. Any body can punch billiards; I can, may be you could.

Well, Berger has come, the great Freuch puncher; and of course I've been to see him purch a few billiards with Pholan. Phelan is a pretir fair puncher himself, but he can't PARRISH & NOSENTHAL, A TTORNEYS AT LAW, NO. 1 KNEE.
